Laurens Care Center Employee Receives Honor

Joy Raasch, Charge Nurse at Laurens Care Center, has been named as an Iowa Health Care Association (IHCA) Foundation scholarship recipient. Cindy Baddeloo, IHCA Senior Vice President/COO, presented Raasch with the Foundation's $1,000 Northwest Nurse Scholarship for her outstanding commitment to providing long term services and supports to the residents’ she serves at Laurens Care Center.

Raasch has worked in the healthcare field for the past 30 years and is currently working toward an associate's degree in nursing (ADN). By advancing from a licensed practical nurse (LPN) to a registered nurse (RN), Raasch feels as though she is bettering herself in her profession.

“I am dedicated to my job,” said Raasch in her nomination essay. “I have always enjoyed working in long term care and am looking forward to using my new skills.”

Gail Olson, Laurens Care Center Administrator, speaks kindly of Raasch. “Joy learns the residents quickly and is able to direct and teach staff in any particular needs of the new residents,” said Olson. “She is active in the community and her church, and exhibits her caring for people in many ways.”

Upon graduating from Northwest Iowa Community College, Raasch plans to continue making a difference in Laurens Care Center where she can apply her new-found skills.

The Iowa Health Care Association Foundation is supported by the 819 member organizations of the Iowa Health Care Association, which includes Iowa nursing facilities, assisted living communities, residential care facilities, home health agencies and long term services and supports associated businesses.

To learn more about the scholarship program, contact Claire Seely, IHCA Vice President, Public Relations and Member Communications, at (515) 978-2204. For information about the programs and services at Laurens Care Center, contact Administrator Gail Olson at (712) 845-4915.

Our Summer at the Library is winding down. I think the kids are about as ready to go back to school (although not all will admit it!) as we are to have them go back! The Library staff agrees that we ready for a few quiet days. After a few days we’ll probably be glad when 3:30 comes and the kids come back to see us, though. When the kids are back in school, we’ll be done with Wednesday story time and Friday LegoMania. Our Monday Tot Times for the littles will begin after Labor Day.

New selections in our fiction department include: Siracusa by Delia Ephron, Damaged by Lisa Scottoline and Sting by Sandra Brown (CD Audiobook too!) New DVDs include Mother’s Day and Batman vs. Superman: Dawn of Justice.

Our Book Club choice for August is “What Alice Forgot” by Liane Moriarty. Our cataloging system describes it this way, “Suffering an accident that causes her to forget the last ten years of her life, Alice is astonished to discover that she is thirty-nine years old, a mother of three children, and in the midst of an acrimonious divorce from a man she dearly loves.” Oh, that sounds like it will make for a good discussion, doesn’t it?! You know me though, I’m in the middle of another book and probably won’t start this one until the week before we meet. Grab a copy of this book and join the discussion at 7 p.m. Monday, August 22.

We have had so much on our coming events calendar that it seems strange that this list is so short. I’m sure we’ll take a deep breath and add to this again soon. Our Card Making and Maker Monday gurus are making plans to start up again in September, so stay tuned for details on that!

Upcoming Events
- On Your Mark, Get Set, READ! Wednesdays @ 1:30
- LegoMania is all day Friday, every Friday!
- Book Club is 4th Monday of every month at 7 pm
- Meet Your Pocahontas County Candidates October 3

Madyson Main Visits the Library

Madyson Main presented a program about her visit to an Orphanage in Romania to many friends, relatives and other interested people at the Laurens Public Library. In this picture, the audience was asked to raise their hand if they were related to Madyson. The lucky lady has four sets of Grandparents that live in Laurens!

She had us riveted with her stories of the orphans and how working with them changed her view of the world. She came home with more appreciation for her upbringing and the American way of life. She also stated this has helped steer her career path.

Cover Crops Questions Answered in New Publication
Research and producer input provides fact-based answers to cover crop questions

With the use of cover crops becoming more prominent, a group of Iowa State University researchers has created a publication to answer common producer questions about their use.

Former Iowa State graduate students Andrea Basche and Gabrielle Roesch-McNally and current undergraduate student Rebecca Clay, under the guidance of associate professor Fernando Miguez, wrote the publication Answering Common Producer Questions on Cover Crop Use in Iowa (HORT 3053). The publication is available through the Extension Store.

The authors combined existing scientific research and information gathered during focus group discussions with Iowa farmers to complete the publication.

“There is already a great deal of research that has been done on cover crops – from extensive on-farm trials to long-term government and university research – across Iowa and the Midwest,” said Basche. “We wanted to provide a short resource to aggregate this research in response to producer questions on cover crop management and costs, specifically those growing corn and soybeans.”

The publication asks a series of questions, using research and input from farmers who use cover crops to provide fact-based answers to those questions.

The questions answered in the publication are:
• How do cover crops impact corn yield?
• What are other cover crop plant species options for Iowa?
• How do cover crops influence nitrogen rate and timing for the following cash crop?
• How does a cover crop affect my bottom line?

“The topics addressed in this publication were questions that producers continually raised during our focus group discussions,” said Basche. “There is a desire to understand how cover crops impact corn yield, how to manage nitrogen following a cover crop, how species beyond cereal rye perform in Iowa as well as what information exists on the economic value of soil.”
Educational Series to help Livestock Industry Prepare for Veterinary Feed Directive

Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, Iowa Farm Bureau, and the Iowa Veterinary Medical Association are partnering to offer an educational series about the Veterinary Feed Directive (VFD). Iowa State Extension beef program specialist Chris Clark said Iowa veterinarians, livestock producers, and feed industry personnel are invited to participate.

“The program will include a general overview of the VFD, species break-outs and discussion panels featuring veterinarians, producers and feed industry personnel,” Clark said. “The implementation date of Jan. 1, 2017, is approaching and at this point people may have some specific questions or scenarios that they are unsure about. Hopefully we can help answer some questions and clarify some of those issues.”

Iowa veterinarians, livestock producers and feed industry personnel are invited to attend any of the 11 locations. Each program features breakout and discussion sessions, with a primary objective of helping attendees learn about the roles and responsibilities of all involved parties.

“Implementation of the VFD will require cooperation and communication between veterinarians, producers and feed industry personnel,” Clark said. “It’s important that each party knows not only their own responsibilities but also what to expect from the other two parties. It may be really valuable to hear what others are thinking and planning in regard to implementation of the VFD.”

The series runs from Aug. 22 through Sept. 1 with specific times set for each location. There is no fee to attend, but preregistration is encouraged to assist organizers with planning. Please register by calling the number associated with the desired session.

Farmland Leasing Meetings Provide Valuable Information
Meetings help tenants and land owners understand current market conditions and make informed decisions

ISU Extension and Outreach Pocahontas County will hold a 2016 Farmland Leasing Meeting on Tuesday, August 16, 1:30 – 3:30 p.m. at Pocahontas County Extension Office. This year’s meeting will focus on land values and cash rent trends, cost of production, methods for determining a rental rate, legislative updates regarding leases and communicating with tenants or landlords.

The workshop is designed to assist landowners, farm tenants and other agri-business professionals with current issues related to farmland ownership, management and leasing arrangements. Attendees will gain a better understanding of factors driving next year’s rents such as market trends and input costs.

A 100-page workbook is provided for the programs, with resources regarding land leasing agreements such as surveys, sample written lease agreements and termination forms along with many other publications.

The leasing meetings being held across Iowa are facilitated by farm management specialists with ISU Extension and Outreach. A listing of county extension offices hosting the meetings is available on the following website: http://www.extension.iastate.edu/agdm/info/meetings.html

To register for the farm leasing meeting, please call 712-335-3103. Pre-registration is encouraged as an additional $5 fee may be added if registering less than two calendar days before the meeting date.

The Ag Decision Maker leasing section also provides useful materials for negotiating leases, information on various types of leases, lease forms, and newly updated Decision Tools.

Because of leasing’s importance in the ag economy, ISU Extension and Outreach held over 80 meetings focused on farm leasing during the summer of 2015 and will do so again over the coming weeks. Over 1,800 people participated in the meetings last year. ISU Extension and Outreach online resources were also extensively used, with the ISU Cash Rent Survey having 164,234 downloads and example cash lease forms being downloaded 138,820 times.

Six months after the 2015 meetings concluded, attendees were surveyed in an effort to gain additional insight into rental markets and trends. The farm management team found that 21 percent of attendees participated to gain information for communicating with other parties involved in the rental agreement. Additionally, 95 percent said they were happy with the effectiveness of the leasing programming being done by ISU Extension and Outreach.

The data collected showed on-going satisfaction with 61 percent of respondents having attended a farmland leasing meeting in a prior year, with 44 percent attending multiple times in the past.

The survey asked for changes attendees planned to make in their lease agreements. Nearly one third – 30 percent – of respondents said they planned to decrease rent. Nine percent decided to move from an oral lease to a written lease agreement while nine percent also pledged to implement new conservation strategies.

John Pohlman was in attendance to cover for City Manager Barb Smith as she was unavailable for this meeting. Mr. Pohlman went over the Prairie Park Trail Project summary provided by the City Manager. This project is going to cost $125,740. The project has secured the following funding sources: REAP Grant of $74,440 and the Laurens Parks & Recreation is contributing $15,000. This leaves a balance of $36,300. The City of Laurens will be approaching the Pocahontas County Economic Development Commission and the Laurens Industrial Foundation about contributing to this project. The City of Laurens is hoping that the Utilities would also consider donating to this project. All members of the Board of Trustees agreed that this was a worthwhile project for the community. The issue we have is that this project was not budgeted for. The Board informed Mr. Pohlman that they would consider this request but would not take action on it at this meeting.
